East Norwalk's Business Community

East Norwalk businesses are blossoming!

Have you noticed how many fine businesses have opened their doors to the community? Everything you need is right here. You can start with dinner at East Side Café, enjoy dessert at Sweet Ashley's, an evening nightcap at Sunset Grille, and then bring home a fine bottle of wine from Fountainhead. If home cooking is for you, there is the new Norwalk Fish Store, or the Market Basket, ready to fill your order for all your needs.

From shoe repair and morning exercise, to hair salons and furniture repair, everything is here. If you operate a business in the District and would like it featured in the newsletter, prepare an article including all pertinent information, and we are happy to feature you. All articles should be addressed to the Electric Department and include contact information.

Automated Meter Reading On Its Way!

Automated Meter Reading (AMR) is coming to the Third Taxing District. The Commissioners and the General Manager have scheduled a limited installation and demonstration of automated meter reading for selected number of electric meters in the District. If the demonstration is as successful as anticipated, all meters in the District will be equipped with AMR. This is another example of the ongoing process to continue the modernization efforts at the District.

Existing meters would be retrofitted with an electronic device under the glass dome. This electronic device will communicate signals to the host computer at the offices of the Electric Department. This will allow for quick and accurate measurement of the electricity used at the meter location. This is just one step toward the future of utility use by the customers of the Third Taxing District.

The General Manager has stated that he is "exceedingly pleased with the enthusiasm the Commissioners have shown to move forward with modifications necessary to ensure that the Third Taxing District will stay current with advancing technology."

This is just one more example of your community - owned utility company continuing to be the lowest cost provider of electricity with outstanding customer service.
